Jouka Integrated valve systems (IVS)

A more efficient valve system to give you competitive advantage

Jouka Integrated Valve Systems (IVS) will help elevate the cost efficiency of your business.

Whether you're moving liquid, gas or powder, our extensive experience ensures we can customise the best Jouka IVS ball valve solution for you.

We design integrated valve systems for the personalised needs of our customers. All of our products are manufactured at our own factory in Ylöjärvi, Finland. The valve systems are delivered fully tested and certified for the customer application. Our service covers a lifetime partnership – and we take responsibility for the solutions we produce to reduce your risk.

With the Jouka IVS system, you'll have fewer individual products to manage. This makes product management easier and more efficient.

When you're ready to take your business to the next level, contact our sales team.
